

ArtsEdWashington.org
programs@artsedwashington.org

ART LESSONS IN THE CLASSROOM

FIFTH GRADE LESSON 4

TODAY WE USED COLORS AND LINES FOR MOOD

LOOK In class, we used our teacher's prompts to guide us in building in metaphors and similes in our writing. We associated time of day with our sensory feelings and emotions to stimulate our writing.

TALK We looked at Verse from the Sea #8 by Keiko Hara and/or Rockets and Blue Lights by J.M.W. Turner. We analyzed the artist's choices of color and line to express emotion. We talked about how different colors are associated with mood, and how our association of mood with colors are individual.

ART AT HOME

ASK At home, ask your child did you select the same emotion? If not, support your choice?

CREATE Together you could look at a painting and consider the colors (palette) and each note the emotion inspired by the art.

SELECTION OF A SPECIFIC PALETTE CAN CREATE ASSOCIATIONS WITH EMOTIONAL STATES IN THE VIEWER.